

Ref No. T26/49/005

Date Digitised: 04/10/2019

LANDMARK PRODUCTIONS

Knives in Hens

BY David Harrower

'an EXCITING, demanding production of a PROVOCATIVE, disturbing play' SUNDAY INDEPENDENT

'BEAUTIFUL' THE IRISH TIMES

'ABSOLUTELY GLORIOUS ... sensational ... superb' ARENA, RTÉ

'smouldering piece of dramatic intensity ... UTTERLY COMPELLING' IRISH MAIL ON SUNDAY

'PITCH-PERFECT' ★★★★★ METRO

IRISH EXAMINER

IRISH MAIL ON SUNDAY

SMOCK ALLEY THEATRE MUST END 28TH NOV

Set in a God-fearing, pre-industrial rural community, a young woman comes to terms with an ancient hatred, an unexpected betrayal, and a growing awareness of her place in the world.

With a sensational cast – Lorcan Cranitch, Vincent Regan and Catherine Walker – and an award-winning creative team – film and theatre director Alan Gilson, Tony-nominated designer Joe Vaněk and lighting designer Sinéad Wallace – Knives in Hens must finish 28th November.

Experience this fierce love story, underscored by live music from Eleanor Dawson, in the extraordinary space that housed Dublin's first theatre in 1662 – the Smock Alley Theatre in Temple Bar.

4 TICKETS FOR €80
TUESDAY – THURSDAY

'a medieval morality play for our own times, given a searing production in a magnificently primal set,
hauntingly lit ... an exciting, demanding production of a provocative, disturbing play'

SUNDAY INDEPENDENT

9th – 28th Nov 2009

Tues – Sat 8pm;

Sat matinees 3pm

& Sun matinees 4pm

Tickets €25 – €30

(conc €20 – €25)

Booking through Project:

www.projectartscentre.ie

Tel (01) 881-9613 / 4

www.knivesinhens.com

presented in partnership with Project Arts Centre