

Archive Collection: T26. Joe Vanek Arch...

Ref No. T26/4812/005

Date Digitised: 04/10/2019

The National Theatre presents

at the

Abbey

Dancing at Lughnasa

by Brian Friel

The Arts Council
An Chomhairle Ealaíon

RTE

Previews Opens
Bookings

TICKETMASTER

Thurs 3 June to Tues 8 June
Wed 9 June to Sat 17 July
01 878 7222
01 456 9569

Dancing at Lughnasa

by Brian Friel

Director Patrick Mason

Designer Joe Vanek

Lighting Designer Trevor Dawson

Choreographer Terry John Bates

The cast includes: Jane Brennan, Lynn Cahill, Des Cave, Steven Elliott, Anna Healy, David Parnell, Anita Reeves, Ali White

It's harvest time 1936, and for the five Mundy sisters it's a time of change. As the summer passes the sisters' wireless brings them fresh hopes and dreams but also signals the changing world which is soon to encroach upon them. As a new way of life takes over their simple existence, cracks begin to appear in the family in this richly rewarding piece of theatre.

First premiered at The Abbey in 1990, Dancing at Lughnasa has gone on to win a host of national and international awards.

'one of Brian Friel's best, richest, most lovable and most enlivening plays'
Irish Times

Pre-Show Talk

The Road to Ballybeg - rehearsing and performing the plays of Brian Friel

Tues 29 June 7pm - Abbey Theatre - Admission Free

A panel discussion with Patrick Mason, Brian Brady, Niall Buggy, Conall Morrison, Rosaleen Linehan and Anita Reeves.

Performances Monday to Saturday 8pm - Saturday Matinee 2.30pm

Booking 01 878 7222 or (24 hours) 01 456 9569

Tickets £10, £13 and £16
Previews and Matinees £8

Concessions £5 (available Saturday matinees and Monday to Thursday to Students, Equity Members and Irish Senior Citizens resident in Ireland on presentation of appropriate identification)

at the

Abbey

